Two cases of rabies confirmed in past week

The Department of Agriculture has confirmed two cases of rabies in Lutterworth and Snowdon townships.

The Health of Animals

Branch of the Department of Agriculture in Peterborough has confirmed that a live bat found on a farm in Snowdon township last week was rabid.

A number of dogs that came in contact with the bat have been quarantined.

On Monday October 1, the Department confirmed that a fox trapped near Davis Lake in Lutterworth township was also rabid.

The fox was captured in a trap set by the Predator Control, Branch of the Ministry of Natural Resources after the ministry received a report that a coyote had killed a lamb two weeks ago.

On Sunday night a coyote was captured in the trap and is now being examined for rabies.

David Camelon of the MNR District Office in Minden informed The Times that the examination of the coyote is being conducted as a precautionary measure and that rabies is not suspected.

Camelon noted that rabies is more prevalent in animals in the spring when wild animals are in a weakened state due to lack of food.

He pointed out that there has been a good food supply this summer so that wildlife should be healthy but added it is not unusual to find rabid animals at this time of year.

He added that there are usually two or three cases of rabies reported in Haliburton County every year and suggested that the two confirmed reports of rabies are isolated and coincidental cases.

There have been two other confirmed cases of rabies in Haliburton County this year.

The confirmed incidents of rabies has resulted in a number of precautionary actions being taken by area residents. Several farmers have been exercising extra care with livestock, limiting their access to open pasture.

The authorities advise that individuals should avoid contact with wild animals acting in a strange manner. As well, pets should not be allowed to roam, to avoid contact with potential rabies carriers. Pets should also be inoculated for rabies to protect them and family members from the disease.

Housing program aims explained

by Michael Shirley

Critics and supporters of the Central Mortgage and Housing's Rural and Native Housing Program (RNHP) had an opportunity to voice their opinions on Thursday evening at the regular meeting of the Anson, Hindon and Minden Municipal Council.

About 20 people attended the meeting that was arranged by council because of the recent criticism of the CMHC's plan to construct a home in the Highland Gate Estates subdivision. The offer to purchase a lot in the subdivision was turned down by council because of the opposition of the residents. Don Moulds, a CMHC representative from Peterborough attended the meeting to address the concerns of the residents and to outline the purpose of the RNHP.

According to Moulds the program was initiated in 1974 in response to representations from native groups from across Canada. The program was designed to assist low income families in small communities to purchase homes.

At present there are 1100 housing units covered by the program in Ontario, including 300 homes under the jurisdiction of the Peterborough office.

CMHC conducts an intensive review of those applying to the program, taking into consideration their yearly income, credit history, debts, the number of dependents, etc.

Clients pay 25% of their adjusted gross income, which is reviewed annually, until the total costs are recovered by the CMHC.

Three homes were built in Minden in 1983 and an additional home was slated for the area this year. When the CMHC's offer to purchase a property in the Highland Gate Estates was turned down by the municipality, a decision was made to purchase an existing house. According to Moulds the CMHC intends to subsidize 34 homes in the area covered by the Peterborough office in 1985 but he did not know how many would be built in the Minden area.

He noted that the Corporation intends to provide a higher proportion of total housing units to native groups than in the past. He added that about 17 people in the Minden area have applied to take part in the program.

When asked to evaluate the success of the program in terms of evictions, Moulds replied that the most important consideration was the fact that the Corporation had assisted 1100 people in the province to purchase homes. Although he would not give any specific figures he noted that "the arrears rate is higher than we would like it."

He stated that one of the keys to solving the problem was to offer financial counselling to clients noting that this was "a real problem area".

Another important factor he noted was the increase in energy costs. He pointed out that in some cases increases in income have not kept pace with the increase in the cost of heating fuels.

He concluded by stating "I am not aware of any problems in the Haliburton area."

Favours continuation

Brendan Berube who has acted as a spokesman for the residents of the Highland Gate Estates in the past told the CMHC representative, "We are glad that the program exists because it helps a needy sector of the Canadian population," adding that he was in favour of continuing the program in the Minden area.

He went on to say that he was glad that the CMHC dropped their plans to build a home in the Highland Gate Estates because he did not believe that it was a well thought out idea.

Then, referring to federal government documents he noted that a study had shown that the housing program did not meet the needs of those most in need. Berube asked what measures were being taken to remedy the problem.

Moulds replied that the study referred to rental housing only and that studies of the RNHP had shown that the program was

Catholic Parish plans addition

Bishop Doyle of the Diocese Peterborough has recently announced approval of the proposed expansion of the Minden Roman Catholic Church.

The addition to the Church will be built at right angles to the sanctuary in the direction of the hospital and be sixty feet in length with the width at thirty-two feet being the same as the present Church.

The facility will be a dual purpose one of providing space not only for normal parish functions but also additional seating capacity for Mass during the summer as it will be open to the sanctuary area.

Bishop Doyle indicated that construction could commence once 50% of the project's cost had been raised at the local level. Fund raising projects have already started and Father Thomas Palakal said that he is hopeful that construction would start in 1985.

meeting the needs of low income families but was not assisting enough native people.

Berube then asked if it was the intent of the CMHC to integrate the houses in the community and if so why had the corporation not done so in Minden.

Moulds replied that the CMHC does try to integrate the homes adding that the corporation prefers to build new homes in order to generate local employment and because new homes that are reasonably energy efficient cost less to heat and maintain.

He added that the suggestion that the homes in Minden did not fit in was a subjective view.

Berube said that he hoped that more homes would be constructed in the area but added that the styles of the existing homes were too extreme and that all they lacked were signs reading "low income families".

Moulds replied that clients can choose from several different styles but that there are not a lot of frills on the outside of the buildings. He added that aluminum siding is preferred over wood siding because it costs less to maintain.

"If we can find good existing housing we will use it. If we have to build, we will" he said, adding that because there is a problem finding suitable housing, "it is a no win situation on both sides."

Another resident of the Highland Gates Estates questioned why the CMHC had decided to purchase a lot valued at $8,500 where there are lots in this area that cost less. Moulds admitted that perhaps the resident had a point, noting that "The biggest problem that we have had was to find good lots".

He added that lower priced lots may require fill, a well and septic system, thus increasing costs.

Another resident asked if the mortgage for the homes built in Minden had been registered at $81,000. Moulds replied that the mortgages had been registered at $81,000 initially but that the final costs were closer to $60,000 and that the mortgages had been adjusted accordingly.

Support

A resident of one of the CMHC homes in Minden voiced her support of the RNHP program, noting that it was important to continue the program in the Minden area.

She expressed the opinion that the newer styles of the homes were better than existing homes that were available adding "We agree that they aren't individualistic "but that they compared favourably with many homes in the city".

She added that although the homes will look the same at first, the owners will eventually make them more individualistic and invited people into her home to personally inspect them.

A resident of the Highland Gate Estates then commented that he and the residents of the Estates were critical of the way the program was administered but noted "We do not want any hard feelings. No one has mentioned anything against the people in those homes."

At the conclusion of the meeting Don Moulds stated "The major component in the program is community involvement" adding that he thought that the meeting had helped people understand "what our problems are".

He concluded by saying that he did not know how many units would be built in the Minden area next year but that there would be no advantage to putting a house in the Highland Gate Estates subdivision because of the residents' opposition.

Thanksgiving

The Thanksgiving celebration, which we mark this weekend, is one of special significance for many people. While frosts have already taken their toll, the Thanksgiving weekend marks the traditional celebration of another harvest brought in from the fields.

Here in the Highlands the season is accented by the beautiful colours which paint our hillsides. For many seasonal residents, the holiday weekend marks the last visit to the cottage. Its a time of warm memories of the summer gone by and, as the shutters are securely fastened, thoughts race ahead to the warmer times that await next year.

Thanksgiving is a time for friends to gather for fellowship and sharing, for wistful goodbyes.

The season also brings to mind the fortunate circumstances we, as Canadians, find ourselves. One need not look far afield to find individuals and nations who must envy the ease with which we can enjoy our life on this planet. War, hunger, lack of adequate health care and housing are just some of the troubles which beset others in the world.

It is part of the human condition to find reason to complain. While our "problems" deserve to be addressed, when compared to the struggles that others must face on a daily basis, our complaints seem petty indeed.

We should not allow this season to slip away without finding a moment to reflect on, and appreciate, just how fortunate we are.

Editor:

First let me commend you on your editorial "Let the people be heard". I am also concerned and not a little disturbed by your report of the decision by the County Council to recommend the reinstatement of the death penalty and to communicate their decision to various federal authorities. I can only respond to your report as I was not present to hear the whole discussion, but the assumptions which appear to have been made in the course of the decision-making seem invalid and ill-founded.

Of course we deplore the killing of the policemen whose deaths have sparked the latest move toward the judicial killing of those responsible. There is, however, no evidence that the reimposition of the death penalty would affect the safety of the police in their work, or reduce the total number of murders.

Many other measures which might ensure the protection of police and public are being, and need to be, considered and implemented.

Those who recognized that this issue is one which must allow for general and individual input through some form of referendum were quite right and I am sorry that other members of council did not listen to them and respond favourably. The statement by Stanhope Reeve Harry Davies that "up to 85% of Canadians are thought to be in favour of capital punishment" is just meaningless nonsense. What does "up to" mean, and what does "thought to be" mean, and where does he get his figures anyway?

It seems odd to me that the County Council would be prepared to make a motion in this area of concern when it is so obviously a matter of great difference of opinion and conviction. I would like to make it clear that they do not speak for me, nor will they speak for many others in this area.

Fred Elson,
R. R. 1, Minden.

Editor:

In reference to last week's article, "Council seeks death penalty", we should be thankful that not all members of council have the attitude of Deputy Reeve Glynn Lewis, as to not seeking a referendum to decide on this touchy issue.

As to his personal statement, "the best terrorist is a dead terrorist" - the issue is not terrorism!

In opposition of the death penalty, there have been various incidents in the past where an individual has been put in jail for murder, only for us to find out at a later date of his innocence. Our judicial system is far from flawless. I, for one, would not want to sit on a jury, and sentence a man to hang, only to find out after the fact that he was innocent.

As to the three police officers who have been killed recently, I will agree this by all means is a tragedy. However, if the death penalty was in effect,

Association of Ontario Naturalists

A long-simmering wetland vs. drainage dispute in the Brockville region of eastern Ontario literally exploded during the summer. Sometime in July, vandals as yet unapprehended, walked onto local resident Jane Topping's property and dynamited a network of beaver dams impounding what's known as the Glen Elbe wetland.

The issue goes back a number of years and has deeply divided residents of Elizabethtown Township in eastern Ontario. Jane has voiced the local opposition to the proposed Glen Elbe drain because it would sacrifice her wetland and threaten downstream water quality for no clear overall agricultural gain.

Her fears are widely shared by the expert opinion and research of Environment Canada, the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources and the Cataraqui Conservation Authority. Each agency has a representative on the technical committee which approves drainage proposals for the 2/3 federal-provincial subsidy that has been available in eastern Ontario. With the committee deadlocked for over a year and the drainage engineer's bill rising with each new report produced in a lame attempt to answer the committee's concerns, the patience of some drain proponents apparently gave out. They decided to take the law into their own hands and eliminate what has appeared as the number one obstacle - Jane Topping's wetland.

Damage to the wetland and its fish and wildlife need not be permanent. With new beavers to restore the dam and water levels, it may spring back healthier than ever in a short time. Of great overall concern is the harm done to the whole cause of conservation by this senseless violence and the Ontario Drainage Act which lies at the root of the whole sorry issue. No other cause comes to mind where parties to a landuse controversy in this province have chosen to argue their case with dynamite. Conservation organizations, are committed to resolving such conflicts through more open and balanced public discussion. The blast at Glen Elbe is a slap in the face to this effort. And even the slightest hint of its success as a pressure tactic would spell far greater disaster still.

Amazingly, that possibility still remains, since neither federal or provincial governments have closed the door to a potential subsidy for the drain, even though no money remains in their joint drainage fund.

The issue became purely political in the instant of the

Imaginative watercolours

An interesting and colourful display of watercolours is the latest exhibition to be featured at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery in Minden. The show by Fred Seedhouse opened Thursday evening.

The show is an intriguing cross section of work including a large number of landscapes, still life and maritime scenes. With an economy of brush strokes, the artist leaves a lot to the imagination and personal interpretation of the viewer.

This technique can often lead to frustration as the viewer has difficulty finding the focus or direction of a particular painting. This is not the case with most of the Seedhouse watercolours. Best viewed from several paces back, especially the larger works, the observer often finds himself weaving his own interpretations into the works. A dark splash of paint in one painting for example, takes on the form of a man standing on the dock. A second look could lead to a different interpretation.

The artist has used his water colour technique to tease and tantalize the viewer, and in so doing, slowly draws him into his paintings, always finding something new or interesting in the work.

Seedhouse, who recently retired with his wife Mary to a home on Head Lake near Norland, has drawn on the landscapes of the Highlands for his inspiration. Trees, rock and water are blended into interesting presentations.

The three large maritime scenes, taken from the docks at Collingwood, are particularly well done pieces of art.

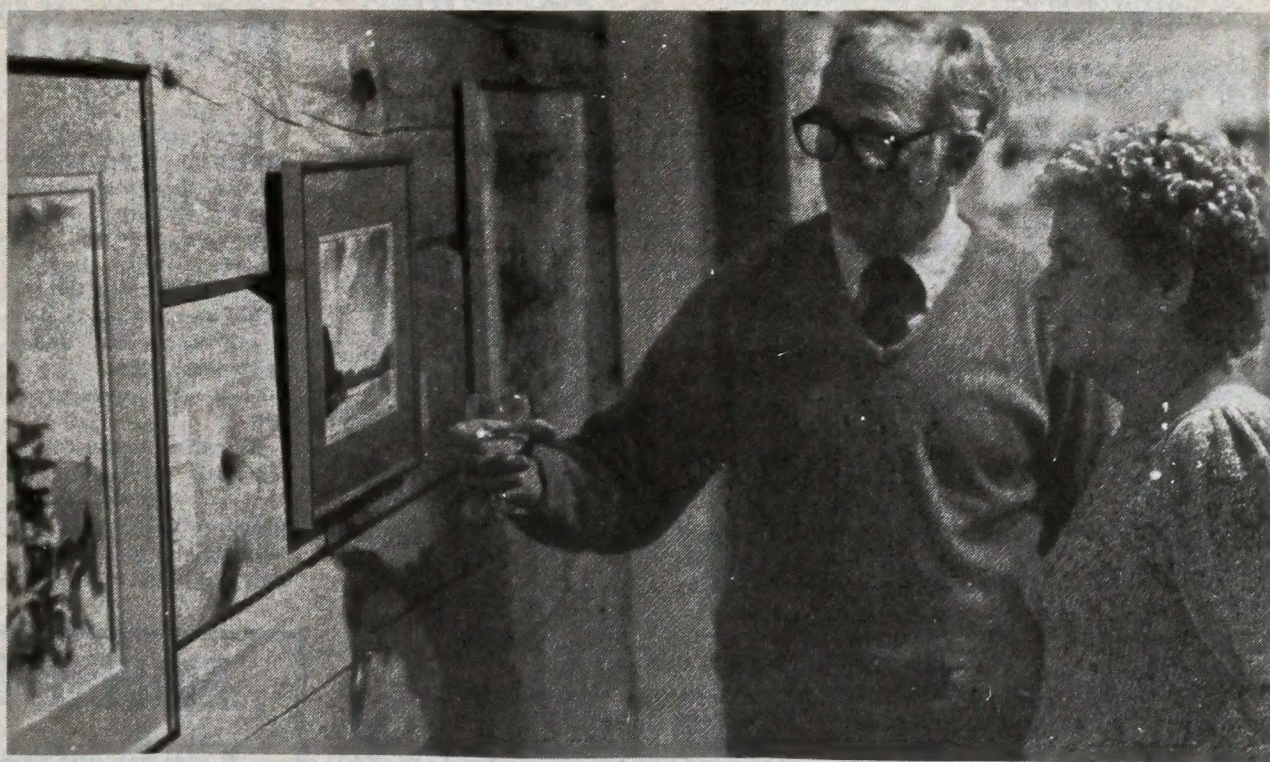

Watercolour is a relatively new art form for Fred Seedhouse.

He began his painting with oils and worked in that medium for some time before giving up painting altogether 25 years ago. Some three years ago he took up the brush again and began to work with watercolours.

The artist noted that watercolour is less "forgiving" than other media. While oils can be reworked, scraped off or painted over, the latitude for corrective action once a watercolour brush has touched the canvas is limited. As he pointed out, "It has to be what you want the first time, there is no room for error."

Fred Seedhouse is a welcome addition to the local artistic community.

His exhibition at the Minden gallery speaks highly of his abilities and the contributions he will make to the growth and expansion of art in the area. Hopefully his presence will help attract more interest to the art being produced here. Unfortunately the number in attendance Thursday evening did not offer a substantial indication that support for the arts is indeed growing.

Fred Seedhouse discusses one of his paintings with a visitor to the opening of his show at the gallery Thursday.

The Agnes Jamieson Gallery is open Monday through Saturday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The show of Fred Seedhouse watercolours continues until October 27.

Council approves salvage yard

Lutterworth Council has approved an application by Garnet Stevenson to develop a salvage yard on property adjacent to the Deep Bay Road.

A draft bylaw amendment to rezone the property from a Rural to General Industrial designation was circulated by Lutterworth Township in August and received one notice of objection.

Mr. Stevenson attended the municipal council meeting on September 20 and was informed by council that provisions of the municipality's Comprehensive Zoning Bylaw require that all derelict vehicles that are visible from the Deep Bay Road must be moved to the proposed salvage yard site and must be screened from public view.

Stevenson told council that the salvage yard would be situated in a clearing at the back of his property and that all vehicles would be hidden by a 20 - 40 foot strip of trees.

He added that he would erect a fence behind the trees if necessary to ensure that the yard was screened from public view during the months that the trees are bare.

Following assurances that the area immediately adjacent to Deep Bay Road would be cleaned up, council approved the rezoning application.

does it not warrant a police officer to hang if he kills an innocent person? e.g. the carpet layer killed in Quebec by two police officers while in his motel room.

Yes indeed, Mr. Lewis, the public should be involved and careful consideration should be taken when making the choice.

Shannon Mercer,
Minden.

Editor:

One of the central issues surrounding the recent resurrection of the debate about the pros and cons of the death penalty is whether or not a referendum should be held. Brian Mulroney has already stated his personal opposition to the noose but would call for a free vote in Parliament. However, that is not good enough.

Similarly, comments in last week's edition of The Times by Lutterworth Deputy-Reeve Glynne Lewis are equally short-sighted.

Mr. Lewis, speaking at County Council, was quoted as saying a referendum would only prolong matters and that the decision about reinstatement could easily be made by politicians.

It's preposterous that the public should be by-passed on such an important question. As for prolonging matters, this issue has already been around for a long time with both sides debating but with little agreement about the referendum idea. A little more time for such a vote won't matter as long as the people have their rightful say.

If Mr. Lewis is willing to continue making "decisions at this level" on other matters, perhaps some with more direct local interest, and apparently excluding the public, he may find himself out of a job when election time rolls around next year.

Sir Sandford Fleming College

In a report from the Academic and Student Affairs Committee of the Board of Governors of Sir Sandford Fleming College, Gary Cronkwright reports that the Haliburton School of Fine Arts recently completed its 17th successful season offering six weeks of arts and crafts courses.

This summer saw the largest increase in students in the history of the school with 911 students attending, up 186 over the summer of 1983. This translates into 677 attending credit courses and 234 general interest students. The largest area of increase was in textiles (weaving, knitting, sewing and fashion related courses) with 218 students registered. Also drawing and painting courses continued to grow with a registration of 208.

People come to the Haliburton School of Fine Arts from across Ontario; the largest percentage being from the Golden Horseshoe Area, however the number of students from outside the province, namely Quebec is growing.

The fact that the school continues to grow no doubt is related to the high calibre of faculty which the school continues to attract. The reputation not only of the quality of instruction but of the exciting and friendly atmosphere, continue to spread. The Haliburton School of Fine Arts is now the largest craft/art summer school in Ontario, says Cronkwright.

Women's Institute report

The September meeting (a week late) of the Minden Women's Institute was held at the Library Cultural Centre on the 26th, with Mrs. L. Cox presiding. 22 members answered the roll call of an amusing incident of our school days and 2 guests were made welcome and some new members as well.

We had a very successful bake sale in August and Mrs. Cox thanked all who helped. Mrs. Wm. Moore had sent 24 cards since June and collections for this Fund and Pennies for Friendship were taken. Plans were made for some members to serve tea at Hyland Crest Senior Citizens Home October 18.

Mrs. Kernohan told us some details for our bus trip to the Royal Winter Fair in November (14th) and some names were turned in, others may book by calling her.

We then enjoyed a movie "Summer Hill" a different type of school, shown by Mrs. C. Lacey. Mrs. Stiver showed us some of her quilt ideas. Mrs. Wilson, Convenor of Education and Cultural Affairs had arranged this programme and we were appreciative.

Mrs. C. Wilson is to go as our delegate to Area Convention. District buses will take delegations from Fenelon Falls.

Next meeting is October 17 at this same place at 2 p.m. We are having a travelogue with all ladies welcome.

The meeting closed with God Save the Queen and W.I. Grace and all enjoyed a snack and social half hour.

Police investigate shooting

Police are continuing their investigation into what is believed to be a double murder and suicide in the Peterborough and Stanhope Township areas.

According to the authorities, the body of 33 year old John Arthur Fawkes was found in a vehicle parked at the Stanhope dump. The man had apparently killed himself using a shot gun. The body was found at approximately 7 p.m., September 25.

A subsequent investigation by the OPP detachment in Peterborough led to the discovery at 8 p.m. the same evening, of the bodies of the parents of John Fawkes. John Frank Fawkes, 75, and his wife Beryl, 63, were discovered in their Innesmore home by the authorities. The couple had apparently been stabbed to death.

Police are proceeding on the theory that the three deaths were related.

Police are also investigating an assault which took place near the Stanhope dump on the same evening, some time prior to the discovery of the body of John Fawkes. Speculation is that the man who committed suicide was responsible for the assault.

Details surrounding the investigation were still sketchy at press time as the investigating officer from Peterborough was unavailable.

Break-ins

Community Services officer, Constable Gary Chapman has cautioned that the months of September, October and November usually see the highest number of break-ins in the Haliburton County area.

That warning was borne out with reports of two break-ins this past week which netted intruders some $12,000 in property.

A tool shed on Highway 121 east of Minden was broken into September 28. The lock hasp was pried off the door. The thief removed chain saws, a generator and machine tools valued at $9,000.

The second break-in was discovered September 29 near Trooper Lake in Glamorgan Township. A padlock was sawn off the door of a sugar shack and a chain saw, generator and other items, valued at $3,000 were removed.

Chapman suggested that the community can play a part in reducing this sort of crime in the area. "If people would adopt a 'Neighbourhood Watch' attitude it would be of great assistance to the police," he commented. He said such an attitude would involve being observant of suspicious individuals or cars in the neighbourhood, noting licence plate numbers, or the description of the vehicles or individuals.

He said this information can be helpful in identifying criminal activity in the area.

CHACE Place plans concert

If your child comes home from school, and asks for an old broomstick to make a "Jingling Johnny", you can be pretty sure a lady named Sandra Beech has come into his or her life.

Jingling Johnnies are just part of the homemade music-making items Juno Award-winning children's entertainer Sandra Beech has youngsters involved with during her concerts.

Sandra Beech will bring her musical magic to the Highlands October 13 at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School. Her performance is being sponsored by C.H.A.C.E. Place.

Of course, more sophisticated accompaniment can be found on "Sunshine Songs", the brand new LP from Sandra Beech. It was produced by George Millar of The Rovers, who contributed and co-wrote some songs with Rovers leader Will Millar (both of whom are Sandra's brothers).

The album is an incredible package of fun that serves up equal portions of the traditional, the nutty, the scary, and family songs.

"Sunshine Songs" is Sandra's third LP. Her first two albums "Chickery Chick" (a 1981 Juno Award Nominee) and "Inch By Inch" (the 1982 Juno Award winner for Best Children's Album) had originally been released on a small independent label set up by her husband Len Beech, but are now available exclusively on Attic Records.

Tickets to the Sandra Beech concert are available from C.H.A.C.E. Place. Call 457-2989.

explosion, yet the politicians, especially Ontario Agricultural Minister Dennis Timbrell, remain unwilling to take a stand and continue to pass the buck to their deadlocked bureaucracy. It is nothing short of tragic that the expectation of eventual public funding for the drain has been allowed to persist, leading the issue to such a dangerous climax and casting the provincial commitment to wetland protection as a bad joke.

Conservationists have repeatedly urged both federal and provincial governments to restrict subsidies for wetland destruction as a basic principle of their commitment to protect this dwindling habitat. At the same time positive incentives, such as taxation relief for wetland owners is also required. Hereto proposals have been made, but not heeded.

With a new federal minister in place, Sinclair Stevens, the concerns and proposals must doubtless be repeated. Both Mr. Stevens and Mr. Timbrell must hear that dynamite politics has no place in Ontario.

Dave Murray seeks nod

The Reeve of Fenelon Township has announced his candidacy in the upcoming Victoria - Haliburton Progressive Conservative convention to select a candidate to run in the next Provincial Election.

Mr. Murray showed very well in the last Provincial election by greatly closing the gap on the incumbent member.

Murray has a vast background in municipal politics, having been an elected Reeve for 8 years, with an additional 8 years as a councillor and deputy reeve. A past Warden of Victoria County as well as serving as Chairman of every major County committee, Mr. Murray is seen by most as a natural person, to best represent this riding and effectively work with a strong government.

Having been actively involved in his own marine and resort business for 25 years has created a strong feeling toward small business persons as well as tourism needs. Provincially, Mr. Murray has been asked to sit on various boards, due to his vast political knowledge, and is now prepared to energetically utilize and expend this knowledge as an elected representative.

Whether flying his own small Cessna airplane over the riding or on the road in his car, few people can match the grasp of the local areas such as Mr. Murray.

"It is a significant concern to me that the riding needs are properly addressed," states Reeve Dave Murray. "Our agricultural community must be protected, also, our towns and villages deserve every benefit going, to allow them to keep up with the rapidly changing times, and I am prepared to accomplish that task."

Hundreds of support calls to run in the election again this time have been most encouraging for Mr. Murray and to quote most people "this time, Dave Murray!"

Stop law extended

A recent amendment to the Ontario Highway Traffic Act now permits the use of alternating flashers and stop arms on school buses for all outings.

The amendment extends the use of the warning devices to buses carrying passengers under the age of 18 that is operated by a licensed school-bus driver.

In announcing the new regulations at the September 25 meeting of the Haliburton County Board of Education, trustee Brian Sisson, a member of the transportation committee pointed out that the public is accustomed to stopping for buses when students are entering or leaving a school bus during the morning or afternoon runs, but that people are not used to buses stopping and operating the warning devices at night.

He noted that this will now be possible and may occur when students are returning from trips outside the county, such as football games.

Teacher's aides

Due to the large number of students in each class, the Board has approved a resolution to provide teacher's aides for the kindergarten classes at Archie Stouffer Elementary School in Minden.

The board will permit a teacher's aide for three hours per day for a kindergarten class with an enrolment of 25-29 students and five hours per day for a kindergarten class with an enrolment of 30 or more students.

The support service will begin this month. Enrolments will be reviewed in September and January.

The board will also hire a teacher's aide to work in the Special Education class at Cardiff Elementary School commencing in October. The teacher's aide will work 4 and a half hours per day.

Semester system

Two members of the board will be taking part in a study on a semester system that is being considered for the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School. The committee will study the feasibility of establishing the system and will recommend any changes that they feel are necessary to the board.

Under a full semester system, students would study four subjects for half the school year then write final exams for those subjects. The remainder of the school year would be dedicated to four additional subjects.

Under a part semester system, some subjects would be taught under the existing system in which final exams are written at the end of the school year and other subjects would be taught under the semester system.

Senior soccer team wins 2-0

The HHSS Senior Soccer team extended their winning record on Wednesday when they defeated the previously unbeaten Fenelon Falls team 2-0.

After playing a strong supporting role in the two previous games this season, centre forward, Jeff Howe connected for his first goal of the year on a pass from Scooter Burgess and Lennie Johnston to put Haliburton ahead by a goal.

Chris Laporte, who has scored in each of the Haliburton victories this season, added another on a pass from Dave McColl.

At the halfway mark of the season the HHSS Seniors are undefeated and have only given up one goal while scoring a total of ten points.

It was a different story for the Juniors, however, as they suffered their worst defeat of the year, losing 6-0 against a strong Fenelon Falls team. In contrast to the Seniors record the Juniors have scored only one goal in three games.

Both teams will play their remaining games on the road, beginning on Wednesday, October 3 (today) against I.E. Weldon.

Sr. Curlers golf tournament

On Wednesday, September 12 the Senior Curlers got together for their annual Golf Tournament.

Well I will tell there were a number of 'Cleeks', 'Moshie', 'Niblicks' even a 'Mid Iron' and a few 'Brassies' cleaned off for this day on the links of Beaverbrook, along the winding Gull River. The weather was great and 59 golfers, and I use that word with full poetic licence, started out like young colts and fillies. The feeling lasted the entire day until winners were declared, and the group swelled to 75 for a great barbeque.

It was here that the efforts of the volunteer cooks and bun loaders, etc. proved once again that everything works out with a little co-operation. Thanks folks.

And the winners were:

Ladies Low Gross: Agnes "Bolby" Orr; 1st Low Net: Millie "Spare Ribs" Boskett; Low Gross: Donna "Capona" Johnson; 2 Low Net: Ruby "Killer" Kennedy; 3. Low Net: Alberta "Wheels" Maitland; Longest Drive: Loraine "Cupid" King;

Mens Low Gross: Jack "Drop Ball" Harrington; 1 Low Net: Hal "Silent" Burton; 2. Low Gross: Russ "Chip in" King; 2. Low Net: Jack "Fats" Gregory; 3. Low Net: Phil "Sparks" Graham; Longest Drive: Jack "Drop Ball" Harrington; Nearest the pin 8th hole: Ed "Steamer" Rudd.

There were many more winners of net prizes but we must save on printer's ink and there were no losers on this day and on Thursday, we believe there will be bigger winners.

We wish to thank everyone who took part and helped to make this a successful major event of the summer.

So as the cup said to the ball, why don't you drop in sometime, yours truly will now wait for the rock to draw the T line before packing away his clubs.

"Ye Olde Observer" P.S. "Fancy" Nancy Moore's prize turned into a "C" note on Thursday courtesy of Wintario.

Redmen win season openers

The HHSS Redmen opened their home game series on a winning note on Friday as the Junior and Senior teams defeated the visiting Brock Bulldogs.

The Seniors played to a 3-0 victory in a very evenly matched game.

The Redmen scored early in the first quarter gaining a two point safety after a Brock player fumbled a bad snap in the end zone.

With the score still 2-0 for Haliburton, Brock moved from their 15 yard line to the Redmen's 25, but were stopped when Mike Blake recovered a fumble.

Brock put on another strong offensive drive in the third quarter but was stopped again when Terry Hobden pounced on a fumble.

In the fourth quarter the Redmen put on their strongest offensive drive of the game. A good running game by offensive backs Jeff Bain, Mike MacNaull, and Rob Macleod, supported by the work of offensive guards Sean Allore and Craig Burk resulted in a single point on a kick by Alex Little.

Redmen coach Gary Brohman described the game as a "good defensive battle". He noted that there were a lot of big players on the Brock team and that they had a strong running game but that the Senior Redmen met the challenge.

He commended the play of Terry Hobden, Mike Blake and inside linebackers Peter Allore and Wade Woodward.

Juniors win

The Junior game was a more wide open affair and resulted in a 13-6 win for the Redmen.

After the Redmen kicked off the Bulldogs began advancing upfield but lost possession when Andrew Burk intercepted a pass and carried the ball 24 yards to the Bulldog's 6 yard line. On the next play Craig Crowe took the ball in for the touchdown. The convert by Jaro Cooper put the Redmen ahead 7-0 very early in the game.

Still in the first quarter the Bulldogs were stopped again when Craig Crowe intercepted a pass.

The Redmen increased their lead to 13-0 when Andrew Burk ran 25 yards on a sweep play to end the first half.

Fumbles proved costly to the Bulldogs again in the third quarter. Allan Rydman recovered two fumbles to break up the Bulldogs offensive drives.

The Bulldogs finally got on the board with one minute left in the game. They picked up 6 points on a touchdown but missed the convert.

The game ended when Brock attempted a short kick but were unable to complete the play.

Coach Gary Brohman singled out defensive players Craig Crowe, Allan Rydman and Kevin Barnhardt for their fine play and offensive players Andrew Burk and Drew Mitchell.

The coach pointed out that if the Redmen win their next games they could possibly end up in first place in the league.

Both the Juniors and Seniors have won two games after losing in their season opener.

The Redmen are at home this Friday, October 5 against Lindsay Collegiate and Vocational Institute. The Senior's game begins at 2 p.m.

Council wants legal advice

A Soyers Lake cottager received a sympathetic hearing from Anson, Hindon and Minden council on Thursday but did not receive the immediate action for which he was looking.

Mr. B. VanKoughnet had written and open letter to council requesting the municipality enforce a Stop Work Order which had been issued and posted on a lot on Soyers Lake.

The letter was published in the September 26 issue for The Times.

After the letter was read to council, Reeve Lyle McKnight stated that the municipality's solicitor is currently preparing a report on the matter, adding, "I would be reluctant to make a decision until we have been advised by our solicitor."

Clerk-treasurer Bev Millar informed Mr. VanKoughnet that a report from the solicitor would be completed in the very near future.

VanKoughnet stated that he felt in fairness to the individual who was building the cottage on the undersized lot, council should act immediately, because the cottage would have to eventually be torn down.

He added he felt that the Stop Work Order must have been legal adding that "To give any credibility to the By law (Enforcement) Officer and the council," the municipality should enforce the order.

He noted that the Municipality of Dysart recently enforced such an order against a boathouse constructed on Kenisis Lake.

Councillor Gary Kenney pointed out that it took the municipality six years to enforce the Stop Work Order, adding "It seems that it is easier to enforce a parking ticket."

Reeve McKnight repeated his assertion that

"Council had no alternative but to leave it in the hands of our solicitor," adding, "None of us are lawyers; that is why he is hired."

VanKoughnet responded that he did not "want to see it put on the back burner."

McKnight replied, "I assure you that it won't be."

September was a bit below normal in temperature with heavy killing frost on the 5th and 6th. Rainfall was about average with most of it in the first half of the month.

Fall colours should be about their best for Thanksgiving but lack their usual brilliance this year for some reason.

Trent-Severn news

Thanksgiving Weekend is fast approaching bringing with it the end of the navigation season on October 10. This will, therefore, be the last newsletter until next spring.

Until recently the 1984 open water season has been wetter than normal, and the lakes have only now come back to being close to the normal percentage of storage, having been higher than the 10-year average since May 24. On September 24 the lakes averaged just 2% above normal for the time of year at 51.4%. Last year the average was only 39% at that time.

With the Kawartha Lakes close to mid-range and the Otonabee River having near average flows for September, the situation is as normal as it ever gets.

Further stoplog changes will be necessary until after Thanksgiving to complete the early drawdown of lakes containing lake trout, to refill Twelve Mile and Horseshoe Lakes, and to get the Haliburton lakes set for winter. Reduced staff will be occupied marking snow courses, performing maintenance functions and continuing water control operations on some of the major lakes until winter conditions arrive. Snow will then be accumulating to refill the lakes for the 1985 season.

On a warmer note, Parks Canada will be celebrating the National Parks Centennial and 100 years of heritage conservation next year with many special events planned across the country.

The Trent-Severn Waterway and its co-operating association, the Friends of the Trent-Severn Waterway, will soon be promoting Centennial events to clubs and organizations in cities and towns throughout central Ontario. It is an opportunity for the public to become involved, whether it be in events such as Swim the Waterway, Jog the Waterway, or by reading about their own community's plans in our Centennial Calendar of Events.

1985 will be an exciting year, not only for Parks Canada, but for the Trent-Severn Waterway, employees of the Trent-Severn Waterway and all Canadians.

Why not make a centre-piece for your table for your mother?

Take a small pumpkin - cut off the top for a hat. Take out seeds, place small can inside. Make sure it's clean. Fill can with water. Pick some weeds and coloured leaves, cattails, etc. Put in water in pumpkin. Place hat near top of pumpkin. Put nails through hat into pumpkin where they won't be seen and you have your centrepiece. Anne Campbell taught the Junior Horticultural group how to do the centrepiece. Thanks Anne.

Q: Why is a barn so noisy?
A: Because the cows have horns.

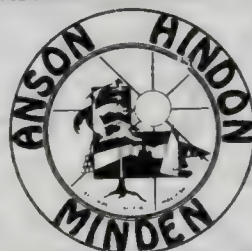

Q: What kind of fish do you eat with peanut butter?
A: Jelly fish.

by Bert Harrison

Dear reader, by the time this letter reaches you we will be in the month of October. How the weeks and months roll around. Please all try to stay sober.

Quite a lot of relatives came on this 23 September day. We were glad to have Henry and Muriel Cox who were our neighbours where we lived down in Glenarm. Teddy Carr spent the weekend with his family and we have Edna Cowen back with us. We're all glad to see Edna and her roommate Lily Hogg have company galore. Some came to call who haven't come here before.

Sunday night we were pleased to have the Thompsons there. Ruth to play the music, lead the singing, Harold to read the lesson, also offer prayer. Then Rev. Burgess always has an interesting message and takes over from there.

We have Marjorie Shuyler back from hospital. But we hear them say she has to return to hospital, probably right away.

Monday, September 24 we had our first auxiliary meeting with a lovely pot-luck dinner. After 2 months holidays not all our members attending. Some are still away. Our president Aileen Blears is resigning at the end of 84. She wouldn't be president at our meetings any more. Sorry to lose you Aileen, the job you did was fine. Always trying to keep everyone in line. The Hyland Crest auxiliary through the years, months and days, help out here financially in many different ways.

Rev. John Phillip of the Haliburton Anglican Church brought us a very interesting message this 25 September day. We thank you both for coming, we would like to say. Fred Ballard came, the music to play.

Congratulations to Mary Oliver who is 95 this September day. She is still quite active and still sometimes quite gay. We are glad she is fine for her family is taking her out to dine.

Tuesday night was music night. It was Fred Ballard's time. Fred plays organ music which is really fine. Tuesday movies Doris showed us this 21st September day. Very interesting we would like to say.

They have put new name plates on our room doors. So callers should not have any trouble at all, finding where we live when they come to call.

The A.C.W. ladies who live over Kinmount way came to Hyland Crest this 27th September day. We had a birthday party for those who had a birthday in September. They not only brought a lovely lunch, but a delicious birthday cake served with ice cream. The way we were treated seems just like a dream. Then Doris played the music for a sing-a-long. We would just like to say thank you for coming this September day.

We would like to thank Lewis and Jean Stevens for coming Thursday night. The bingo numbers to call - some had very good luck, others none at all.

Teddy Carr won four bingos, Millie Wood said she did too. Others didn't win a cent and are feeling rather blue.

We had no sing song this September 28 day. Our entertainers are on holiday.
